

Why Geography?

The study of Geography at Advanced Higher level gives you the opportunity to develop a high level of skill in independent study, co-operative learning, objective thinking and the ability to communicate clearly and confidently. You will gain expertise in the use of a range of maps, diagrams, fieldwork techniques and IT.

Advanced Higher Geography provides you with a sound base from which to pursue further or higher education as well as enhancing your general education and personal development.

GEOGRAPHY ADVANCED HIGHER

Details of Course Components

This is at the discretion of the school but you would normally be expected to have attained one of the following:

- A course or component units at Higher in Geography .
- A course or units in other social subjects at Higher or Advanced Higher level.

The course consists of three compulsory 40 hour units plus 40 hours flexible time.

- Geographical Methods and Techniques
- Geographical Study
- Geographical Issues

Fieldwork is a very important part of any Geography course. Fieldwork is carried out by the pupils individually in a topic of their choosing. Pupils will be required to collect information and work independently at home on their study.

ASSESSMENT

The course is externally assessed by the SQA and consists of two components

1. A written examination (50 marks) (30%)
2. A folio of Course work which consists of two key pieces of work:
3.
 - Geographical Study - a report on geographical research (60 marks) (40%)
 - Geographical Issues - an essay which critically evaluates an issue from a geographical perspective. (40 marks) (30%)
